LETTER FROM THE CHAIR

Dear Friends,

I could not be prouder of what the Conservancy has achieved in Hermann Park to improve the quality of life for Houstonians. Virtually all of it can be traced back to the Conservancy's 1995 master plan, which laid out a sequence of audacious projects including McGovern Lake, the Jones Reflection Pool, Lake Plaza, Kinder Station and most recently, the McGovern Centennial Gardens and the Cherie Flores Garden Pavilion. These iconic features of the Park would not have been possible without the Conservancy's incredibly generous friends and supporters, and to say that we are grateful is a criminal understatement.

As an organization, we've come a long way since our founding 24 years ago, but we're not done, and we won't be finished until we have created a world class park, one that is as beautiful, diverse and stimulating as the people whom it serves. In fiscal year 2016, we focused our fundraising efforts toward the restoration of the Japanese Garden, which turns 25 in 2017, and the renovation of the Park's historic 1933 clubhouse, which will soon be renamed Lott Hall at Hermann Park.

We are also creating a new plan for the Park's future—a bold blueprint for the next 20 years. We have partnered with the award-winning landscape architecture firm, Michael Van Valkenburgh Associates, to do this. We are thinking hard about underused parts of the Park, traffic and parking, and the Park's edges, especially the vast area across MacGregor Way known as Bayou Parkland and the corner of Fannin and Cambridge Streets by the Buddy Carruth Playground for All Children.

Hermann Park serves its visitors in the way that only a destination park can: be it as a vacation spot, a place to get married or celebrate an anniversary, an outdoor fitness center, or a school for those interested in nature, animals, science or the arts. Now is the time for us to double down and continue to beautify this Park, a park that every year brings millions of people of all stripes together without putting a price tag on the experience.

Over the years, we have spoken about Hermann Park in terms of quality of life, as if it can be dialed back as the need arises. This is false choice: the Park is not a perk. It is not a nice-to-have. It is a must-have. It is not a luxury. It is essential. And we need your support. For those who answer the call, we promise to continue to operate in a way that is long-term, transparent and efficient. And in return, we guarantee that you will be proud of the legacy you will be making here in the Park.

In that spirit, I want to extend a heartfelt thanks to our donors, the Conservancy's dedicated board members, volunteers, and the professional team lead by our phenomenal president, Doreen Stoller, all of whom make such amazing contributions day-in and day-out to preserve and protect this precious gem.

Best regards,

PARK IMPROVEMENTS

Grand Gateway

Hermann Park's historic entrance at Main and Montrose Streets is once again welcoming Park visitors in style. In the Park's early years, the meticulously landscaped "Grand Gateway" provided a scenic portal to the popular young Park. Throughout the decades, the entrance to the Park lost its luster. The Conservancy sought to recapture the beauty of the original gateway and launched a renovation as a part of its Centennial Campaign. In addition to funds raised by the Centennial Campaign, the $5 million project's funding included nearly $3 million through the Texas Department of Transportation, which managed the project with the Conservancy and the City of Houston. The renovation was designed by landscape architecture firm, SWA Group.

The Grand Gateway renewal brought improvements to the area leading to the Sam Houston monument, visually connecting three medians with extensive landscaping and seasonal plantings. The project also focused on improving connectivity to the neighborhoods around the Park. Lights, benches and sidewalks were added for the convenience of pedestrians and cyclists. Along Main Street, drainage and irrigation systems were installed to help preserve the street's arching live oaks, and new understory trees and flowers were planted to create a colorful palette beneath their branches.

Lott Hall at Hermann Park

Hermann Park's historic clubhouse, built in 1933, hosted generations of Houston golfers within its walls. Now that golfers have moved to the newer clubhouse on North MacGregor, the Conservancy is planning to usher in a new era for the beautiful, but time-worn building. In fiscal year 2016, Curtis & Windham Architects moved forward with the next phase of the building's design. Hermann Park master planners Michael Van Valkenburgh Associates have been engaged to collaborate on the landscaping and configuration of the clubhouse grounds to fit in with their recommendations for the Park's master plan update. By the end of fiscal year 2016 on June 30, the Conservancy had secured nearly $3.3 million toward its $5.8 million goal, including a lead gift from Tommy Lott. The restored clubhouse will become a rental venue raising funds to maintain the Park.

Japanese Garden

Hermann Park's tranquil Japanese Garden will celebrate its 25th anniversary in 2017. Ahead of the milestone, a garden restoration project including structural improvements was funded by the Conservancy and the City of Houston, and construction began in November 2015. A dry-stream garden, a waterless Japanese-style garden feature was designed for the Japanese Garden by internationally recognized landscape architect, Terunobu Nakai. When Mr. Nakai passed away unexpectedly in 2011, his assistant, Aya Nakamura, carried on his vision for the garden and oversaw the construction of the dry-stream garden. In addition to funds provided by the City, the Conservancy and the Japanese Garden Advisory Committee are actively fundraising to complete additional projects including a new entrance gate on the Fannin Street side of the garden, an event lawn, and new roofs for three structures.

Envisioning Hermann Park's Future

Hermann Park Conservancy's mission to improve Hermann Park took an exciting step forward in fiscal year 2016. The Conservancy identified underdeveloped areas of the Park, including its edges, that could be developed into engaging, visitor-friendly landscapes. Prominent landscape architecture firm, Michael Van Valkenburgh Associates (MVVA), will study the Park's needs and develop a plan to guide improvements for the next 20 years.

MVVA is known for projects including the creation of Brooklyn Bridge Park, the renovation of Maggie Daley Park in Chicago, and landscaping the grounds of the George W. Bush Presidential Center in Dallas. The MVVA team began to analyze data, meet with community members and develop preliminary concepts. MVVA planners, led by Matt Urbanski and Chris Matthews, monitored the Park during spring break to better understand the needs of Park visitors and neighbors, especially on busy days. Mobility and transportation consultants, Nelson\Nygaard, are collaborating with MVVA on the master plan update.

Hermann Park provides millions of visitors from all walks of life the opportunity to come together to play, relax and celebrate every year. With more and more people moving to the region, every inch of park space becomes more precious and careful consideration must be given to how this space is used. As Houston rapidly grows and changes, it is critical that Hermann Park adequately and thoughtfully adapts to that changing blueprint to meet the needs of future generations. The update to Hermann Park's master plan will help the Conservancy guide the Park's future improvements to meet these needs and remain a staple greenspace in a city experiencing a significant urban renaissance.

Reforestation & Conservation

CenterPoint employees
lend a hand on Arbor Day

Hermann Park's graceful live oaks are entwined with the history of the Park itself and special care is given to help them continue to thrive. The Conservancy's reforestation program worked throughout the fiscal year to preserve the health of these iconic trees through compost tea treatments and selective pruning. The program also oversaw the addition of 190 trees to the Japanese Garden and surrounding area and 328 trees of different varieties along the esplanade between Fannin and Main Streets, part of the Grand Gateway renovation. One hundred native trees were donated and planted by Centerpoint Energy on Arbor Day. Conservancy staff continued regular maintenance of McGovern Lake, the Jones Reflection Pool and Lake Plaza, where a project to increase water retention for raised plant beds was completed.

McGovern Centennial Gardens

In its first full year in Hermann Park, the popularity of the McGovern Centennial Gardens grew as fast as its plants, hedges, and trees. Garden clubs, school groups, tourists, hospital patients and staff, photographers, plant lovers and many dogs have visited the gardens.

McGovern Centennial Gardens quickly became the place to begin one's daily outdoor walk. There are some who visit every morning to read the newspaper, every evening to meditate, or once-in-a-lifetime to propose. It became the perfect place to celebrate, get married, learn, dig, and volunteer. Even the U.S. Department of the Interior rolled out the White House's "Let's Move! Outside" campaign in the gardens.

Horticultural milestones were met and surpassed within the McGovern Centennial Gardens: the rose and wisteria arbors grew closer to being covered, the pergola borders filled out, hundreds of pounds of vegetables were donated to local food pantries, and baby trees settled in and set their roots.

Every day, Houstonians bring their families, friends, and guests into the gardens, and in doing so, have made it an integral part of their home city.

Maintenance & Volunteers

From towering oaks to delicate blooms, the Conservancy's goal is to be a good steward of Hermann Park's natural resources. Conservancy staff worked diligently throughout the year focusing on the Lake Plaza and McGovern Lake areas, the Jones Reflection Pool and Bayou Parkland. All maintenance of the McGovern Centennial Gardens is done by Conservancy staff, as well.

To supplement the work of staff, thousands of Conservancy volunteers dedicated their time to help maintain the Park. In addition to maintenance tasks, volunteers assisted at annual Park events including the Hermann Park Kite Festival, Park to Port Bike Ride and Run in the Park. Volunteers were also vital to ongoing projects including the Project Blazing Star prairie restoration and the removal of invasive plants in Bayou Parkland's urban forest.

The McGovern Centennial Gardens volunteer team helped the garden staff by pulling weeds, planting and harvesting vegetables, trimming plants, greeting visitors, and reading stories at a weekly children's story hour. Japanese Garden volunteers aided Houston Parks and Recreation staff by weeding, trimming ferns, and placing pine straw.

Visitor Services

Riding the Hermann Park Railroad is one of the joys of a Houston childhood. Our visitor services team is at the heart of making memories in the Park, operating the train, pedal boats and Pinewood Cafe. The team also hosts special events throughout the year to bring our community into the Park. While creating lasting memories for visitors, the train and pedal boats, as well as Pinewood Cafe, raise vital revenue to support Park operations. In fiscal year 2016, the Hermann Park Railroad brought in $978,355 while pedal boats added $212,720. Pinewood Cafe's popularity continued to grow with sales totaling $519,878.

Special events included a party celebrating the 172nd birthday of Park namesake, George Hermann, a holiday party and evening train rides on the decorated holiday train, Valentine's Day "Dinner and a Cruise" and new this year, Mother's Day and Father's Day breakfasts at Pinewood Cafe. The 6th annual Student Performances in the Park presented by Macy's brought talented Houston area students to perform in Lake Plaza. Visitor services also manages the rental of the Cherie Flores Garden Pavilion and the Celebration Garden in the McGovern Centennial Gardens.

Community Events

2nd Annual Park to Port Bike Ride

Under a beautiful blue sky, cyclists participating in the 2nd annual Park to Port Bike Ride rolled along the Brays Bayou greenway trail from Hermann Park's Bayou Parkland to the Port of Houston. The October 3, 2015 event included a turn-around party at Brady's Landing, sponsored by the Port of Houston Authority, before riders returned to Hermann Park. A post-ride party in the Park gave people a chance to relax and celebrate the ride. The 20-mile round-trip ride was chaired by David Ruiz.

12th Annual Run in the Park

The Conservancy's annual Run in the Park drew hundreds of runners, joggers and walkers to Hermann Park on November 14, 2015. The event included a 5K run/walk on the Park's Marvin Taylor Trail. Kids enjoyed their own 1K fun run. Family and friends cheered on the runners and walkers and joined them for the post-race party on Molly Ann Smith Plaza featuring food, music and fun activities. The run, chaired by Carolyn Robertson and Scott Dorfman, brought Houstonians together for a healthy morning in the Park.

3rd Annual Hermann Park Kite Festival

Children were captivated by high-flying princesses, super heroes, and even a few Minions at the 3rd annual Hermann Park Kite Festival on April 3, 2016. Families flocked to Miller hill and the Jones Reflection Pool area for some old-fashioned kite flying. Kids also enjoyed a magician's act, live performances, and face painting. H-E-B, Andrews Kurth LLP and Mill Creek Residential sponsored the festival. The 2016 festival was chaired by Morgan Garvey and Paul-David Van Atta.

3rd Annual Hermann Park Dog Walk

Paws outnumbered feet at the 4th annual Hermann Park Dog Walk on March 5, 2016. The lively event, sponsored by the Houston Rockets, has become a tradition among Houston's dog lovers. Rockets' mascot, Clutch, led the way followed by dogs of all shapes and sizes clad in sporty Rockets' bandanas. Owners weren't left out – each received a t-shirt and a ticket to a Rockets game. After the walk, people enjoyed a post-walk party on Lake Plaza and mingled among booths sponsored by local groups including BARC and the Houston SPCA, bringing awareness to dog-related issues. "Doga", doggy yoga, helped owners and pets relax after the walk.

Special Events

Hats in the Park

McGovern Centennial Gardens hosted 425 guests donning their springtime best on March 7 for the 9th annual Hats in the Park luncheon. Chairs Michelle Foutch, Blakely Griggs and Joella Mach organized a beautiful event raising nearly $350,000 overall to support the Conservancy's mission. After a champagne reception in the Cherie Flores Garden Pavilion, guests dined on a picturesque garden menu prepared by City Kitchen, surrounded by elegant décor from In Bloom. Longtime Park advocate, Linda Hunsaker, was honored for her dedicated service of more than ten years on Hermann Park Conservancy's board of directors and various board committees. Mayor Sylvester Turner shared heartfelt stories about the Park and its significance to the City of Houston.

Evening in the Park

Gala chairs Kristy and Chris Bradshaw and Kim and Dan Tutcher welcomed 540 guests to the Heart of the Park on April 29 for a special Evening in the Park, which raised nearly $519,000. Guests dined on an “Into the Woods” inspired al fresco dinner from A Fare Extraordinaire alongside McGovern Lake. The night honored Park supporter and advocate, Tommy Lott, whose extraordinary vision and tireless work has helped make Hermann Park a better place for all Houstonians. The evening concluded with a grand dessert buffet as guests danced to the tunes of KlockWork.

Urban Green

Hermann Park Conservancy's young professionals group, Urban Green, hosted two successful fundraising events in fiscal year 2016. In November, chairs Libby and Shelby Burgher, Connie Linn and Jarrod McCabe celebrated the beauty of the Park After Dark in the McGovern Centennial Gardens. In May, chairs Julia Alston, Laura and Seth Borland and Holly and Brian Waters transformed Lake Plaza into a nautical oasis at Overboard with Urban Green. These events as well as Urban Green membership raised more than $52,000 to support the Conservancy's operations. Urban Green is led by a dedicated steering committee chaired by Jon Sanfelippo.

Hermann Park Conservancy Membership

In fiscal year 2016, the Conservancy unveiled a new membership campaign, Play Your Park, bringing new membership premiums including t-shirts, tote bags and hats. The new campaign helped increase the Conservancy's membership base to 1,017 member households and 126 Urban Green members. New pop-up tents were also acquired for use in promoting Conservancy membership in the Park. Membership donations provide vital general operations funding, which keeps the Conservancy's programs and initiatives going strong.

The George Hermann Society recognizes donors who have provided for the future of Hermann Park through bequests or life income gifts to Hermann Park Conservancy.

The names listed above and on the preceding pages include donors who made gifts or pledges of $100 or more during the fiscal year from July 1, 2015 to June 30, 2016, as well as all George Hermann Society members. In compliance with IRS standards, commitments paid over time in installments are recognized once in full at the time of the pledge. Please contact the Conservancy if we inadvertently have not included your name or if you would like to be listed differently in future publications.
